

Global Client Partner Delphine Vantomme

Delphine joined Human8 (previously InSites Consulting) in 2007 and was recently appointed Managing Partner. Today she is global client partner and beauty sector head for the group.

Delphine studied Communication Sciences at Ghent University, where she also obtained her PhD within the field of system-1 measurement techniques. Shortly after she joined the business as a junior quant researcher. In the many roles that followed, Delphine has brought human-centric thinking to branding, innovation and CX challenges for global clients. Being a consumer connect expert and pioneer, she drives positive change through empathy programs, seizing opportunities from genuine human interactions.

Delphine is a mom of 2, happily married to Benoit and living in the countryside together with the family sheep, rabbits & chickens. In her spare time, she connects friends and family around good food, or she is out for jogging, hiking or any other outdoor activity bringing her close to nature.
